Mr. Dubois said that only a small $1,800 to $1,600 a year. He was captain regiments from 1861 to 1865. States are even acquainted, much less Star-Spangled Banner." He lamented this fact and said that in almost every foreign country the allowed the start and said that in almost every foreign country the citizens, from peas ant to prince, know the national airs of their respective countries, and whistle hum, or sing, them upon the slightest provocation. He said he hoped this would be true of America, because its citizens are as pataiotic as any in the world, and this means of expressing patriotism should become popular.

Jefferson and Martin.

The speaker paid high tribute to homas Jefferson and John Martin, whom he declared to be two of the very best types of Americanism. Mr. Jeffer-son was eulogized more particularly as the author of the Declaration of Independence, and John Martin's fame, he ed all efforts to compel his return to urged that steps be taken to perpetuate to Tennessee was submitted to chief the memory of these two patriots, by Justice Clabaugh, of the District Suthe erection of suitable statues to adorn preme Court yesterday, and a decision two of the public parks or squares in will be announced in a few days.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines.

They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pieasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name-" Syrup of Figs"-or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Co.-printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness.

Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company-

California Fig Syrup Co.-printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the performance of "Tosca" could not have concluded the season of the Savage Opera Company in Washington, for it formed the climax of a series of operatic representations which, taken as a whole, have rarely been equaled in this city. Mrs Maggie It can fitly be described as a great achievement, both in its lyric and dra-matic aspects. It carried the audience vent in frequent and prolonged applause and in repeated curtain calls.

Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

The event was furthermore noteworthy from the fact that it was the first. sentation of Puccini's work on the local Puccini has been heralded as the Wager of Italy. Great as is the compliment, Lee, Miss Lizzie Lerall, Mrs Olle it is richly merited. No composer has neasure up to him; not Verdi in his latest and best, nor yet-to go back further-Rossini with his "Tell." So far as the Italian school is concerned Puccini has proclaimed a new gospel. the gospel of truth in musical Braxton, Mrs L composition. He scorns to tickle the ear Brent, Mrs Ella with trifling or lascivious tinkling when he action calls for the grander, the more heroic, expression. While he is no cheap imitator of Wagner, it is easily perceived that he has drunk deeply at Brower, Anna B hat fount of musical inspiration, even though his native genius takes its flight nhampered by the limitations of any model, however great and impressive.

Thus we find in "Tosca" lyric beauties that enrapture the senses, and, at the same time, the most forceful of dra-Brown, Mrs Lottie Brown, Mrs Maggie Brown, Mrs Maie Brown, Miss Mamle Brown, Miss Mary Liza Brown, Miss Nellie matic recitative. captivates the ear. Even he who is not a trained musician cannot fail to be impressed by its forcefulness and its consummate perfection. To interpret music of this character satisfactorily will tax the resources and the skill of the best and most perfectly trained orchestra, and all the more deserving of praise is one which, like that of the Savage Opera Company, labors under physical limitations unavoidable in an organization of this kind. Under the direction of Mr. Emanuel it acquitted itself with much credit.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the principals of last night's performance. Miss Rennyson, as Tosca; Mr. Sheehan, as Mario; Mr. Goff, as Scarpia; and Mr. Boyle, as the Sacristan, were more than satisfying, lyrically and dramatically, albeit it was to be regretted that Mr. Goff was slightly handicapped by a cold which at moments veiled his voice. Miss Rennyson was in splendid voice, and besides was thoroughly imbued with the dramatic significance of her role. Last night she proved herself as good an actress as she is a singer; she showed that, if anything, she is even better endowed for parts like Tosca than for such as Elsa. She achieved her greatest triumph in the scene with Scarpia in the second act. There are few of the world-famed prima donnas who would surpass her in this competition.

Mr. Savage deserves great praise for the care he has given to the scenic equipment of the opera. The setting of the first act—the church of Sant Andrea aile Valle—and that of the last act—the platform of the castle of Sant Angelo—are superb productions of the scene painter's art.

"Lohengrin" will be repeated at today's matinee, and the engagement closes tonight with the ever-popular "Bohemian Girl."
